

ISPS UK One Day Conference

Thursday, 27 March 2014 (London)

An international conference for therapists, for other professionals who work with people with psychosis, and for those with personal experience of psychosis and their families and friends.

Psychosis and the Arts

Thursday 27th March, 2014

@ Amnesty International Human Rights Action Centre,
17-25 New Inn Yard, London, EC2A 3EA

Speakers include: Bobby Baker, David Bell, Liz Ellis, Martin Gayford, Deepthiman Gowda, Bob Harris, Nanna Lüth, Wiebke Trunk and Meg Harris Williams.

---

BOOK YOUR PLACE: WWW.ISPSUK.ORG | ADMIN@ISPSUK.ORG

---

The use of the arts in personalised recovery journeys, as well as in psychological treatment approaches to working with psychosis, is well known in contemporary mental health practice.

In this one-day conference supported by Tate Modern, clinical and non-clinical speakers will come together in encouraging dialogue and dispelling some of the myths that persist in the field of psychosis and the arts, including Van Gogh's ear.

The conference will provide a new lens through which ways of approaching the urgent UK agenda of compassionate care can be looked at in the context of the wider contribution of the arts for enhancing empathic mental health care. It will also address broader themes of social justice relevant to psychosis such as stigma and cultural displacement.

	Standard	Low Waged (<£12k pa)
ISPS UK Members	£100	£35
Non-Members	£125	£50
Concessions*		£25

* Concessions available for arts therapy trainees, student nurses, service users, family & friends of service users. A limited number of bursary places are available for ISPS UK member service users, carers & student nurses.